

Dancing for JUSTICE

ELECTRO house comes to Dunfermline this summer with 'Dance For Justice'.

Three DJs will be joining forces to raise the roof as well as awareness and funds for the Hope for Justice charity.

They are DJ Uzzie_L who is a regular at clubs such as WhyNot, PowerPoint and Encounter, DJ Sonar Zone who has played at events such as Synergie, Taster FM, Deepsink Digital and God's DJs and DJ James Deans, who has performed at Destiny Church, Fusion and Selektance.

Hope for Justice is a Manchester-based charity with a priority for campaigning against the crime of human trafficking.

A spokesperson for the event said, "Modern day slavery is present and persistently occurring within societies across the UK, as well as the rest of the world, today.

"With shocking statistics, such as 99 per cent of victims failing to be rescued every year, Hope for Justice actively campaigns to bring awareness of this serious issue to individuals, with their main goal being to eradicate it from society altogether.

"Hope for Justice also investigates and actively seeks to rescue victims of this atrocious crime in the UK, as well as assisting with their protection and rehabilitation.

"The overall aim of this event is to demonstrate that we can all become involved with raising awareness, as well as supporting a great cause.

The event takes place at the Vine Venue on the 22nd June. Doors 6pm.

Tickets are £5, with all proceeds going to Hope for Justice Charity (www.hopeforjustice.org.uk).

Tickets must be bought in advance from <http://www.musicglue.net/danceforjustice/>

Kilkennys' tribute

A NEW show pays tribute the Clancy Brothers – one of Ireland's finest musical exports.

It is now more than a quarter of a century since the Clancy Brothers and Tommy Makem were last heard singing together with many of their 55 albums still selling thousands every year.

The tribute show traces the rumbustious story of the Clancys from their early days in the paint shop of a car factory in Cleveland to international fame and stardom, including a special performance for President John F. Kennedy in the White House.

The show is narrated by Cathal MacCabe with music provided by the The Kilkennys, Ireland's most exciting young folk and ballad group.

Growing up just 25 miles from the Clancy's hometown of Carrick-on-Suir, The Kilkennys have been raised in the same musical tradition and perform the great Clancy songs with an excitement and authenticity which could bring the audience to their feet.

The Kilkennys, Rothes Hall, Thursday 19th April, 7.30pm. Box office: 01592 611101.

Supremes sound

THE Supremes' music personified the Motown Sound that influenced a generation, an enduring contributions to American pop music history.

Since 1989 The Sounds of the Supremes led by Kaaren Ragland, a former member of original Supreme Mary Wilson's 70s/80s group, have achieved worldwide success.

London's What's On described their incomparable, energy-packed show featuring more than 20 hit songs as "a non-stop bravura performance of immense vitality" recreating "perfectly the frenetic style and sound of the original lineup".

These three American women possess a wealth of experience in recording, television, cabaret, theatre and musicals and deliver a fantastic vocal blend on re-worked Motown classics, standards, contemporary songs, stylish choreography and unrivaled glamour. The sound of The Supremes' music lives on today with The Sounds of the Supremes performing chart topping hits such as Baby Love, and Keep Me Hanging On.

The Sound of the Supremes, Carnegie Hall, 2nd June, 7.30pm. Box office: 01592 611101.
